Policy & Industry Affairs

CECA: Too many frameworks don't work

Contractors are being hit as too many frameworks are failing to deliver expected work, while putting firms through unneeded extra bids to secure projects. That is the key finding of CECA's year-long study into the use of frameworks. Members told CECA that, for their frameworks:

- 71 % frequently reported less than anticipated workloads.
- 64% indicated a regular lack of workload visibility.
- 56% reported it is common for frameworks to have unnecessary second competitions.
- 54% said frameworks frequently favoured lowest cost over quality.

In order to start the drive forward towards best practice, CECA worked with its members and others in industry to develop a series of recommendations for infrastructure clients:

- Frameworks to be based around a clear valued work bank with a commitment to deliver work in the framework.
- Once established, frameworks must be used by customers.
- Frameworks to deliver a specified minimum value of work for all participants with subsequent work distributed on quality of tender performance and delivery.
- The number of companies on a framework should be proportionate and balanced in relation to the framework's value and the number and type of projects available.
- Customers should refrain from using multiple frameworks for greater flexibility which comes at the expense of increased uncertainty for the supply chain.
- More use should be made of limited requests for tenders from a select number of suppliers, contractors or service providers in order to reduce the time and cost of the selection process.
- Framework operators should only consider the use of mini competitions if there is a clear commercial reason for doing so.
- Frameworks must recognise SME specialisms and expertise.
- PQQs for frameworks should adopt proposals being developed by industry for a single industry standard approach.

CECA: Retentions

In 2013, following consultation with members, CECA signed up to support the delivery of Construction 2025. This included delivering on a commitment to the complete abolition of cash retentions by 2025. CECA is now working with other industry representatives to deliver these objectives and we would like to form a short working group to generate updated evidence to feed into this workstream. If you would like to be part of this then please email marieclaudhemming@ceca.co.uk

Transport Secretary, Chris Grayling has told peers that breaking away from the EU will mean the UK can rip up the rule book and set its own standards when it comes to sectors like rail and sees no reason why the country should be made to abide by European regulations. His comments were made to the Lords EU Internal Market sub-committee where he set out potential EU-UK transport arrangements.

HS2 reveals HS2 Crewe Link £1.6bn civils procurement

HS2 has outlined plans to split the proposed West Midlands to Crewe section of the high speed railway into two civils contract packages. Procurement chiefs said they are still keeping procurement options open with the possibility of running a competition between its four existing phase one joint venture contractors instead of prequalifying a fresh field of bidders.

A current market testing exercise will help to inform the decision about which procurement route to take later next year.

The 39km southern section of the HS2a route is expected to cost up to £870m while the shorter 28km northern section including two short tunnels is estimated to cost up to £750m to build.

The procurement process could start by the third quarter of next year, with bids being invited in the first quarter of 2020, and the winning bidder announced by spring 2021. Design work for phase 2a is expected to begin next year, with construction scheduled to start as early as 2021.

New study into UK infrastructure resilience

Following the announcement made in the Budget 2018, the National Infrastructure Commission (NIC) has confirmed that it will conduct a study to examine the resilience of the UK's infrastructure. The study will analyse the action the "government should take to ensure that infrastructure can cope with future changes, disruptions, shocks and accidents".

The NIC will publish its final report and recommendations in spring 2020.

According to the NIC, "services like utilities, transport and telecommunications are becoming increasingly sophisticated and interdependent. While this has enabled efficiency improvements and better delivery, infrastructure systems are now more vulnerable and if disrupted can have a very significant impact on people's lives".

ORR approves Network Rail's £35bn plans to boost UK railways

The Office of Rail and Road (ORR) has given the green light to £35bn plans to make the UK's rail network more reliable and more focused on passengers' needs. Control Period 6 (CP6) is set to commence on 1 April and the ORR has backed plans for increased investment in research & development (R&D) with a GB-wide fund of £245m to be spent on projects with £26m funded by the Scotland route settlement. The final determination documents state how the UK rail network has supported more than a doubling of passenger journeys over the last 20 years, while franchised passenger revenues have risen by 135% in real terms. This means funding needs to be set aside to ensure ongoing maintenance and renewal is kept at the forefront.

A total of £4bn is ring-fenced for Scotland's railways and the regulator has set out what Network Rail will be expected to deliver in Scotland. Specific measures include delivering journey time improvements for both passenger and freight operators and achieve a punctuality target of 92.5%.

Late payers threatened with government investigation

Minister for small business Kelly Tolhurst has told MPs that Prompt Payment Code signatories who do not adhere to its terms will be investigated. Ms Tolhurst told the business, energy and industrial strategy select committee that the move had been introduced last week. 'We will now investigate all complaints against signatories of the code and there will be regular reviews of signatories to the code,' she said. PPC signatories are meant to pay all suppliers in 60 days and work towards paying them in 30 days.

....and Government pledges five day payment for small firms

Small to medium-sized firms are being promised five-day payment terms from Government as part of a fresh push to stamp out late payment. The move to pay 90% of undisputed invoices from SMEs within five days, comes as the Government tries to reboot its late payment measures with a call for evidence on the best way to tackle the scourge once and for all. Among the latest measures being looked at are forcing company boards to have a non-executive director responsible for prompt payment performance and empowering trade bodies to highlight the best and worst practices in payment behaviour. The Government call for evidence will be open until 29 November and the government is encouraging interested parties to contribute their views to it.

Signatories including John Irving, chief executive of Liverpool John Lennon Airport, Knowledge Quarter chief executive Colin Sinclair, and Erika Rushton, chair of Baltic Creative CIC have all lent their support to the letter, which urges the public and civic leaders to back the project.

Sefton loses judicial review on A5036 route

Sefton Council has lost its legal fight to order Highways England to re-consult on proposals to ease traffic on the A5036 Dunning's Bridge Road by building a dual carriageway through Rimrose Valley country park. Dunning's Bridge Road is the main route from the motorway network through South Sefton to the Port of Liverpool, and its congestion has long been a point of contention. But when consulting on its port access project, HE only considered two options, the £250m Rimrose route and a revamped Dunning's Bridge Road. Following a High Court hearing in Manchester on October 23, a judgement has been issued dismissing the application, with Mr Justice Kerr ruling that he would not order Highways England to re-open consultation.

Liverpool launches £30m roads framework

Liverpool City Council has launched a four-year framework for the delivery of reactive highway works. Subject to both the consent of the framework manager and to entering into an access agreement with the employer, the Liverpool city region's other local authorities, namely Halton, St Helens, Knowsley, Sefton and Wirral will also be permitted to procure works and services under the framework, along with subsidiaries, affiliated or joint venture bodies the councils are involved in.

The framework comprises ten lots:

Lot 1: General civil engineering: 6 applicants progressing to invitation-to-tender stage, 3 to contract award,

Lot 2: Bridges and other structures: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award

Lot 3: Drainage including gullies: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award

Lot 4: Fencing and barriers: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award

Lot 5: Road markings: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award,

Lot 6: Street lighting and electrical works: 6 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award

Lot 7: Site investigation, surveys: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award

Lot 8: Specialist surfacing: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award

Lot 9: Traffic signs: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award

Lot 10: Watercourses: 5 to ITT stage, 3 to contract award.

The framework will effectively replace the council's previous contract with Amey, which was cancelled by mutual consent earlier this year.

'Build east-west HS3 across the North before HS2', says Labour ex-Minister Caroline Flint

A former Minister called for new cross-Pennine rail links to be built before HS2 as the scale of rail passenger anger in the North was laid bare by official figures. There were 63 per cent more complaints from Northern rail passengers between April and June this year and 21 per cent more on TransPennine Express compared with the same period last year, Office of Rail and Road (ORR) data shows Northern had services crippled on many routes when new timetables were introduced on May 20, with the number of daily trains cancelled reaching 310 and there was also a knock-on effect which caused widespread problems for TPE.

Runcorn Station Quarter set for council sign-off

Halton Borough Council is set to endorse an "aspirational and transformational" masterplan for a development area focussed around Runcorn's railway station.

The masterplan's aim is to provide a new gateway into Runcorn and the wider Liverpool City Region by regenerating an area around the town's station, with a mix of land uses proposed.

Key to the masterplan is a series of infrastructure works: these include revised access on to the Silver Jubilee Bridge; delinking and demolition of the structures carrying traffic from the bridge to the Weston Point Expressway; construction of a new roundabout to link the Daresbury Expressway and Weston Point; and the permanent stopping-up of highways that are no longer needed.

DCO submitted for Preston Western Distributor

Robertson Group and the Tom Barron Pension Fund have submitted a development consent order for Preston's £190m Western Distributor link road directly to the Secretary of State after discussions with Lancashire County Council broke down.

Lancashire County Council approved a planning application for the road, which is due to link the M55 with the A583 Riversway to the west of the city, in October last year, and a business case was signed off in January this year, despite costs on the project rising by around £60m.

The compulsory purchase order and land assembly process was signed off in February this year.

Northern Powerhouse Rail gets £37m boost

A matter of days after the Government agreed a £350m short-term loan to London's delayed Crossrail project, the Chancellor's Budget has earmarked £37m towards supporting the development of Northern Powerhouse Rail.

.... with construction earmarked for 2020 start

Construction of the Northern Powerhouse Rail line could begin as soon as 2020, it has been revealed. Transport for the North (TfN) is finalising proposals to submit to the government in December. If given the go ahead TfN claims that construction could start in 2020. Dubbed "Crossrail for the North", the rail line will connect Hull, Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Newcastle and Sheffield with a "metro-style" service. The route will also be integrated with High Speed 2 stations and Manchester Airport.

£24m for Parkside Link Road

A funding boost worth £24m for the Parkside Link Road project - which is expected to lead to the creation of 3,000 new jobs - has been approved.

The 3.3km road will connect the A49 in Newton-le-Willows directly with the M6 at junction 22, and will act as a bypass to divert traffic away from Winwick and Hermitage Green. It has also been designed to unlock significant commercial development and wider economic benefits to the area. The total scheme will cost in the region of £40m, with the Liverpool City Region Combined Authority providing £23.8m.

HS2 starts contractor consultation for £3.5bn Crewe link

HS2 has started contractor consultations to build the West Midlands to Crewe section of the high speed railway. The 58km route, known as section 2a forms the first part of the western leg of HS2 Phase Two and is expected to cost around £3.5bn to deliver. Phase 2a interfaces with Phase One in the West Midlands and with the existing West Coast Mainline, south of Crewe and will run through largely farmland, but also includes housing areas and towns. The project will involve boring a 2.1km long tunnel, 8km of viaducts and constructing 61 bridges. Also it will require contractors to create 19m cu m of embankments, 20m cu m of cuttings as well as a new maintenance depot.

Special 400m platforms will be built at Crewe to allow longer HS2 trains to split and join, opening up opportunities to serve more destinations including Stoke-on-Trent.

Bid race for £25m Poynton Relief Road

Cheshire East Council has started the hunt for a design and build contractor to deliver the £25m Poynton relief road. This involves delivery of a new 3km single carriageway linking the A6 Manchester Airport relief road to the A523 London Road.

The project forms part of the South East Manchester Multi-Modal Scheme to improve existing transport links on the south east side of Greater Manchester.

It will encourage the regeneration of Poynton, Macclesfield and the north of the area.

The scheme will require a new road bridge to allow the proposed relief road to pass beneath the existing Chester Road and two additional bridges to allow existing public rights of way to pass over the proposed relief road. Landscaping and environmental mitigation works are proposed for great crested newts, bats and other environmental flora and fauna.

Interested firms must return PQQs by 23 November with shortlisted firms invited to tender on 14 January 2019. Work is anticipated to take around 14 months.

See the Tenders section for contact details.
